Martin and Harvey Surprised While Burglariz-

Early Thursday morning the car stolen by Smith and Gardner was found abandoned near Hammond by Chief of Police John P. Shupyrt, who informed the Georgia prison authorities. Chief Shupyrt immediately warned Chicago police to be on the lookout for the escaped convicts. Smith has a reputation for gunmanship second only to that of Harvey, and is one of Georgia's "long-time" convicts of notoriety. Harvey and Martin sawed and bored their way from the death cell of the Georgia prison farm last Friday morning.

Policemen passing the palatial home of Charles W. Tann in the exclusive Detroit suburb Thursday night noticed an open window. An investigation determined that it had been pried open and the officers began a close search of the premises. The Tank family was away for the winter.

As the patrolmen entered the house they heard the scurry of feet. Proceeding to the attic they found Martin, known in Detroit as "Barfield." cowering in a corner. Martin and Harvey had been ransacking the house.

"I tried, too, to meet the legislative retrenchment by effecting savings in purchases, but this would amount to comparatively little. There was nothing left to do but cut salaries and let out employes of the department. It was for this reason that Von Gremp and Smith were dismissed along with several others and that a number of salaries in the department, were cut.

Valentine, like some of our other holidays, is a very old one. We celebrate it in honor of St. Valentine, an aged Roman bishop, whose birthday was February 14. St. Valentine, after having suffered martyrdom, was imprisoned by the Emperor Claudius in 271 A. D. Being barred from his friends, Valentine spent his time in writing them verses on pretty little hearts that he had made, and sent them by a pet dove that he could release through the prison bars. The old pagans celebrated Valentine's day with a festival, believing that birds at this time chose their mates for the coming year. Modern Valentine customs are much valentine's day with a festival, believing that birds at this time chose their mates for the coming year. Modern Valentine customs are much the same in all the countries that celebrate the holiday. "Choosing a Valentine" and sending a "billet-doux" on the 14th of February is still very much in vogue. A pretty custom that prevails, especially in Europe, is that of feeding the birds on Valentine. Naturally quite a bit of romance has been woven around this day. mance has been woven around this day.

A Valentine luncheon will solve the problem for the one, two or three tables of bridge you are planning to have. The food and table decorations will go a long way toward making your party a successful one. The china, silver, glassware and linen should be as dainty as possible. A creamembroidered linen cloth, or one with lace inserts will be ideal for the occasion. Delicate china with a pink pattern, or entirely pink with a white design will help to carry out your color seheme. Crystal goblets and cocktail glasses will harmonize attractively with the plates. The centerpiece may be a deep silver or crystal bowl filled with palest pink roses, snapdragon and fern. The four silver candle holders with tall, delicate, pink tapers are placed around the center. Old-fashioned lace valentines used for place cards, will add a romantic touch.

serve only three courses-a cocktail, a salad or some luncheon dish with accompaniments, and a dessert is nough. Surely none of us can play contract at our best on an over-stuffed stomach. Some of us who are having quite a number of guests may prefer to entertain at a formal tea. Here a lace cloth may take the place of the linen one. The centerpiece and tapers may remain the same, although some of us feeling romantic will want to say with Bobby Burns, "My love is like a red, red rose" and replace the pink roses with the red ones—then the candles, too, will be red. Tea and coffee may be poured from silver pots at each end of the table. The color scheme may be further carried out in the cakes and mints. Plain squares may be iced with thick white icing and a small red heart placed in the center of each. You can have a bakery make these for you. Use the flat round mints in red and white—don't overdo the heart idea. Your mints and nuts should be placed on the table in such a way as to give it proper balance.

Ice cream is particularly zestful in the winter. At this season it makes equally as delicious a dessert as in the summer—probably more so because it is not used as often. Remember, too, that ice cream is one of the easiest desserts you can have. Perhaps you wouldn't want to make the ice cream yourself, for it is not very pleasant to crack ice, pack a freezer and get the cream frozen. Then why not order ice cream already made and give your family a simple but nour-and get the cream frozen. Then why not order ice cream already made and give your family a simple but nourishing confection. There are always a number of flavors to be chosen from, and equally as many colors that will harmonize with the color scheme of your table. Children will scrape with delight the dish of the simplest dessert, in fact they much prefer something familiar to eat, but it ceases to become interesting when it is always served in our own manner. Grown-ups are much the same way—they, too, like dishes dressed up in a pretty fashion. There are dozens of ways that we may serve ice cream and still have a tasty and attractive dessert. Combinations with cakes or wafers are always good, and sauces, for its alw dessert. Combinations with cakes or wafers are always good, and sauces, fruits and nuts also help us in making new desserts out of ice cream. Here are just a few that we hope will help you, and we hope that you'll surprise your family with one of them this very night, just to see how delighted everyone will be.

Supplies "Bulk" and Vitamin B for Constipation; Also Iron for Blood

For ten years, now, millions have found Kellogg's ALL-BRAN a safe, pleasant way to overcome common constipation — with the headaches, loss of appetite and energy that so often result from this condition.

Recent laboratory tests show that ALL-BRAN supplies "bulk" to exercise the intestines, and Vitamin B to help tone the intestinal tract. In addition, ALL-BRAN contains twice as much blood-building iron,

This "bulk" in ALL-BRAN is much like the "bulk" in lettuce. Inside the body, it absorbs moisture and forms a soft mass, which gently clears the intestines of wastes.

Special cooking processes make ALL-BRAN finer, softer, more pal-atable. It is not habit-forming.

It was almost impossible to determine the situation in Chapei, for all communications between the International Settlement and the native quarter had been cut except the Japanese ter had been cut except the Japanese telephone lines that communications detachments laid down immediately behind their advancing troops. He said Japanese Consul General Murai that the resort to force was "unwarranted and illegal" inasmuch as the Chinese and illegal" inasmuch as the Chinese activities.

Night of Terror.

But for the Chinese it was a night of terror. They remained in their houses, hiding behind barricades as the streets outside were swept by the machine gunfire of the advance guard. It seemed certain that many civilians were killed.

Three hours and a half after the first wave of the attackers got into action, Japanese headquarters announced that virtually every fosition outlined in their original plan had been seized. But heavy fighting still was going on.

A detachment of marines was dispatched along the railroad leading from Shanghai to Fort Soosung. The Japanese plan seemed to be to seize the road in order to prevent Chinese troop movements.

The long-threat troop movements.

The long-threatened occupation of Shanghai, declared by the Japanese to have been necessary to stop anti-Japanese agitators, was looked upon as the most critical complication of the Manchurian conflict because of the foreign interests in this port. 4 SHIPS ORDERED TO CHINA TO PROTECT U. S. CITIZENS

TO PROTECT U. S. CITIZENS
WASHINGTON, Jag. 28.—(P)—
Four American warships were directed from Manila tonight toward the strife-stricken Chinese coast, prepared for any eventualities in which their sturdiness might be needed to protect this country's citizens and interests.
Their announced orders were to join the seven American gunboats patrolling the Yangtse river, many miles north of Shanghai where Japanese and Chinese forces have plunged into combat.

But should danger engulf Americans in the barriended International Settlement at the seaport. Admiral Montgomery M. Taylor—in command of the Asiatic squadron at Manila-is free to command that the four destroyers put in at Shanghai. He ordered them to the Far East at the request of Rear Admiral Y. S. Williams, head of the Yangtse patrol.
The Truxton, a destroyer, now is alone at Shanghai but is due to be joined there soon by the destroyer Borie. The four pointing out from Manila are the Parrott, the Edsall, the Bulmer and the Paul Jones. Under forced draft, they can reach the Shanghai area in less than 45 hours.
State department assent was given before the orders were delivered. Officials there interpreted the move as one in anticipation of interior repercusions from the Shanghai conflict.
Pending word from London, Secretary Stimson kept his counsel tonight. It was stated in official quarters elsewhere, however, that this government does not intend any drastic action in the Japanese-Chinese situation without active co-operation from abroad.

Admiral Taylor apparently will remain at his post in Manila. Whether he is under specific instructions to retain that vantage post in the turbulent far easters theater is unknown.

Four American destroyers sailed from here at 8 a. m. today (7 p. m. Thurstay, eastern standard time) with instructions to join the Yangtse river patrol at Shanghai, newest battleground of the Japanese and Chinese.

The fighting ships got under way after a night of hurried preparations, during which the sailors on shore leave were rounded up and rushed aboard their craft.

U. S. MARINES ACTIVE

SHANGHAI, China, Jan. 29.—

(Friday.)—(R)—United States marines, who spent the night guarding their section of the International Settlement against disorders, stayed on the job today in pouring rain.

Under command of Colonel Richard Hooker, the marines have been made responsible for the entire western section of the settlement, which includes the chief residential area. It was here in 1927 that the marines, shortly after they first came to China, went into the trenches shoulder to shoulder with the crack Cold Stream Guards of Great Britain.

As the defeated troops of Chang Tsung-chang, Shantung war lord, poured helter-skelter toward the settlement, the marines on that occasion faced a difficult task when the Chinese troops harassed them with wild firing. But they fought off the horde in what now is referred to as "the famous battle of Markham road bridge."

The British now, as five years ago, stand on the left of the marines. The English troops no longer are the Cold Stream Guards. Instead, two battalions of the Lincolns and the Royal Scots, totaling 2,000 men, are handling the job.

Seventeen hundred Frenchmen and French colonials guard the French concession. Twelve hundred Shanghai volunteers are on duty in another sec-tion of the settlement and 1,500 Japanese—entirely separate from the cupation force—are protecting to northern section of the settlement.

Eight hundred British replacements are due to arrive today to swell the foreign garrison to 8,400 men. It is the task of this garrison to guard the hundreds of millions of dollars' worth of foreign property in Shanghai.

"We are tired of words," declared W. W. Yen, the Chiness delegate, in commenting on the council's plan for a strongly-worded presidential declaration warning Japan against aggressive action in China. "After this news from Shanghai, only acts will count.

"I am certain the presidential declaration will not be read tomorrow, as the circumstances have rendered it without value. If it is read, I shall proceed with my program for invoking Article 10 of the covenant and perhaps for invoking Articles 15 and 16."

The League had decided to notify Japan that no treaties based on the Shanghai occupation would be recognized.

Manchuria Forgotten; Debuchis at Style Show MIAMI BEACH, Fla., Jan. 28.— (P)—A style show held the attention and interest of Dr. Katsuji Debuchi, Japanese ambassador to the United States, more intentily Wednesday than did the situation in Manchuria.

"This," he said, pointing to mod-els displaying winter resort frocks and beach clothing at the Roney Plaza Cabana Club, "has far more significance than diplomatic trou-bles."

Dr. Debuchi and Madame De-buchi expressed high pleasure as they learned what the well-dressed winter resorter will wear. The am-bassador interspersed his attention to the fashion display with cour-teous answers to the questions of interviewers on diplomatic subjects.

In Pennsylvanis also, former National Committeeman Joe Guffey has as aid that Roosevelt will have at least 68 of the states' total of 72 delegates. Arkansas is expected to be found in the same class before the end, one branch of the legislature having already indorsed the New York executive. The 46 votes of Texas are placed in the doubtful category by Roosevelt leaders pending developments over the projected candidate Roosevelt forces will probably prevail in his state, friends of the governor say.

A Lumpkin county community which gets its mail at Walnut, Ga., is recovering from an epidemic of a mild form of smallpox which necessitated a more or less blanket quarantine of a small section in the northern edge of the county.

About 75 cases have been reported since January 18, Dr. H. Head, Dahlonega physician, said Thursday night, but the chances are that the quarantine will be lifted in a few days as soon as the community is thoroughly disinfected.

No deaths have occurred, Dr. Head said, and none of the cases is serious.

Mail facilities have not been interfered with, he said. No report of the epidemic had been made to the state board of health Thursday.

There was a moment when the world looked as if it were lost. I could hardly credit my own ears when I heard responsible German businessmen and observers say quite frankly that they believed a bolshevik revolution in Germany practically inevlution in Germany practically ineritable. They did not all talk that way, but there were some and there were actually a group of German bankers and businessmen who went to bankers and businessmen who went to Russia for the sole purpose of consulting with economic experts and financiers there as to the possibility of having communist financial experts come over to Germany and study the situation with a view to bring some semblance of order out of the chaos. Of course, the suggestion itself for such a move was downright nonsense. As well call the undertaker in to

Dr. — mentioned in one of your articles, has certainly gotten nearer the solution of this condition than any other physician I have consulted. I have proved to my own satisfaction that cold and dampness have no influence on the pains of "rheumatism." Stormy weather makes one more uncomfortable, that no one can deny. But I find many other kinds of invalids or near-invalids are just as sensitive to changes of weather and barometer as I am. But I have observed often enough that the day may sitive to changes of weather and ob-rometer as I am. preceding and during the storm. A lowered atmospheric pressure center usually moves into a certain area several hours or perhaps a day before the storm begins. Apparently the chronic rheumatic has developed a sensitivity to pressure change, how or why I do not know.

As you pointed out in one article, even healthy persons experience depression and languor during protracted stormy weather.

Even though our correspondent persists in calling it rheumatism, he presents a refreshing attitude. In conceding that other valetudinarians and even normal persons may experience some discomfort from weather changes A. L. V. sets a fine example for a lot of old geezers who are too crabid to see that.

I can add nothing to the practical observations the correspondent has made. I believe medical investigators are inclined to agree that the variations of atmospheric pressure chiefly account for the discomforts unthinking people so cordially ascribe to cold and dampness.

Voluminous evidence was before the recorder, including receipted bills for the payments made to operators of the Sunday show and for shoes and clothing purchased for children. Several law books were also stacked before the judge for reference.

Judge Callaway announced that because of the large amount of evidence he would be forced to study the case further before he could announce a decision.

Bank Profitable.

The first and oldest state monopoly, the National Insurance bank, has been the most profitable. Starting with minor branches and advancing steadily into the more lucrative fields of life, fire and maritime insurance, it has shown a steadily favorable balance and has made some profits for the treasury. But Uruguay counts these of less importance than, for instance, the $500,000 recently distributed among holders of frost insurance policies after a late cold wave. The policies after a late cold wave. The money is credited with having avert-ed economic failure for scores of farmers.

The national light and power business also has a good record. It has lowered prices of electricity in and around Montevideo and has carried around Montevideo and has carried currents to interior villages where government officials doubt that private enterprise would have ventured. Three years ago the electrical board paid $6,000,000 for the largest powerhouse in Uruguay. The fall of the peso lately has embarrassed the board, however, and it wishes it had floated first mortgage bonds instead of paying cash so its reserves would not be so depleted.

The only definitely unprofitable enterprise, officials say, has been the operation of some 600 miles of secondary rail lines, and this has not deterred the country from expectation of railway profits when larger private lines revert to the government. The general Uruguayan opinion about government business ventures is epitomized by Baltasar Brum, dent of Uruguay from 1919 to whose admiration for Woodrow "Little Wilson."

"Contrary to general opinion the state is an excellent manager when ordinary methods are applied," he told the Associated Press. "The state monopolies, whose good effects are now being felt, have prevented the annual exodus of large sums which have been used instead to benefit the commonwealth, placing Uruguay in a better position than any country in South America to resist the effects of the world economic crisis.

No Clue to Powers.

Of the five prisoners to flee the Georgia prison between last Friday and last Monday, only one had and left a definite clue to his whereabouts. That was Abe Powers, one-time chief lieutenant of Floyd Woodward, buncoring leader. Powers previously had staged an unusual escape from Fulton county jail, when he calmly walked out the door while the night jailer was telephoning. Powers effected his escape with Smith and Gardner, but apparently did not accompany them when they stole a big, expensive automobile and killed John S. (Murder Farm) Williams, a trusty prisoner, when Williams was run down, deliberately, prison authorities say, by Smith and Gardner.

Chief of Police Shupyrt, in addition to notifying Georgia prison authorities of the finding of the car, telegraphed Dr. Richard Binion, of Milledgeville, owner of the machine, of its discovery.

Martin's Summer

BY VICKI BAUM.

"They're here. They've come for me," came in a muffled cry from under the quilt.

Martin held his breath. "What is it?" he asked hoarsely through the door.

Again there were three knocks. Martin pulled himself together. His face grew tense and collected. In two strides he turned the key and flung the door open. "What do you want?" he shouted breathlessly into the dark ness with his two fists ready for the gendarmes who came to arrest Anikuschka.

Outside in the darkness stood a small figure. It was Matz, who, true to his orders, had kept watch on the doorway of the cabin. There was another figure, too—a tall, slender one in a cloak, smoking a cigaret. with head turned aside. The red gleam glowed and paled again as if it was being vigorously puffed. There was no one else. No detectives, no arrest, no police. Martin passed his fingers

"What do you mean? Why do you say a lady with me? I don't under-

"No doubt," replied Carla.

Martin seized Carla by the shoulders with both hands. "Do you know who it is who was with me?" he asked, getting angry.

"I've some idea. It might be that woman who has turned all the men's heads in Frauensee. The woman who has relieved Tat of twelve hundred schillings. The woman they're keeping a watch for at the station."

"Is the station being watched?" screamed Anika—the real Annerl Pozwaurek—and she darted out of the hut. She put on her clothes meanwhile and now, in her disheveled white frock, she faced Carla in uncompromising light of the flashlight.

"Are they still keeping a watch on the station?" It's all up with me.

Martin seized Carla by the shoulders with both hands. "Do you know who it is who was with me?" he asked, getting angry.

It was a long time before Martin returned.

"Come along." he said sternly.

Bring your bag, It's all arranged."

Anika followed him dolefully along the beach across the soft, rain-soaked sand, to the end of the bath and relief on the end of the but.

"What are you going to do, Bulli?"

Anika asked anxiously.

"I'm going to row you get oo, Bulli?"

Anika asked anxiously.

"I'm going to row you recross. You'de caught at the station here. Carla Lyssenhop will go round the end of the lake with their car and take charge of you on the other side," he replied laconically.

There was water in the boat, and the seat was wet. Anika shuddered in her summer frook.

In silence they rowed across the lake against a sleeping night wind.

"Are you angry with me?" Anika noughle here and take charge of you on the other car and take charge of you on the other car and Carla replied, after two pulls at her cigaret.

"What do you mean? Why do you say a lady with me? I don't understand."

"Well, we were anxious about you, Martin, and so we came to look for you. 'Herr Heil is asleep,' Matz said, 'There's a lady with him. And May said, 'Oh, God,' and turned and went away."

"That's so," said Matz, expecting some recognition for having performed his duty. Martin was frantic. His empty stomach made him giddy. His only thought was: This is a horrible mess. Aloud he said to Matz: "Right. Clear our, you young rhinoceros." Carla took out a flashlight and turned the ray of light on Martin's dismayed and despeairing face. "Well?" she asked with a flicker of pity.

"I must tell May the whole truth," he stammered after a moment.

"No doubt," replied Carla.

Martin seized Carla by the shoulders with both hands. "Do you know who it is who was with me?" he asked. getting angry.

SUBPOENASCALLING

Governor Philip F. La Follette signed the unemployment insurance law, making the Badger state the first to put such legislation into effect.

The law requires industries to set up reserves to insure against idleness those workinen earning less than $1,500 a year. The sponsor of the law, Assemblyman Harold Groves, University of Wisconsin economics professor, felt that persons earning more are more able to guard themselves against unemployment.

The law applies only to firms employing 10 or more persons.

The industries are given until July, 1933, to cover 175,000 workers with the jobless insurance. If the figure is not reached, a compulsory law will be placed into operation.

Under the plan the industries must contribute 2 per cent of their pay roll for two years to build up insurance funds. After that period when the fund reaches $50 per employe, the contribution is to be reduced to 1 per cent and contributions shall cease when the fund totals $75 for each workman.

ANSWER:
You have a hard, unyielding brother, one who counts his money more important than your heart's case and one whose very hardness prohibits his understanding of the sacrifice he exacts of you. The governments of the world saw the necessity for declaring a moratorium on international debts, because of the world-wide depression. Banks and credit organizations have done the same. Everybody that does business has respect these days for frozen loans. But you have a brother so mean and unyielding that he denies his sister what governments and businessmen have not denied each other. He is shameless, if he is actually denying you the right to get married because you promised to pay him a sum of money beforehand. If he is using that as an excuse to keep you out of marriage with an unsuitable man, that is another matter.

Far be it from me to encourage anyone to ignore an honest obligation. Far be it from me to imply that a promise made in good faith should be disregarded when it becomes advantageous for the promising individual to disregard it. But you have met with unexpected obstacles, and, in all good faith, you could say to that brother that you recognize the obligation to repay him, but you are going to marry the man you love, at once, regardless of his objection. It is not fair to the fiance to keep him waiting indefinitely on the reconstruction of the world's business; for that's what such a delay amounts to. It is not fair to yourself to run the risk of losing your chance of marriage to the man you love because of a promise made under circumstances that have changed entirely. of marriage to the man you love I stances that have changed entirely.

My advice to you is to send for the fiance and tell him that you are willing to marry him at any time he may choose. When the financial tide turns and you shall have got another position you will be cial tide turns and you shall have got another positions able to reimburse your brother.

"Hope deferred maketh the heart sick," No man can be expected to wait and wait until a whole family shall approve the date of his marriage to the girl he loves. And remember this, dear young lady, when you have waited and waited until you have lost your lover, your brother will have nothing to offer you in substitution for the thing you have lost. He will not even be willing to support you if you should find yourself jobless and loveless and lonely in old age.

Gar Wood's Run Is To Be Recognized as National Record; Roos and Barron Plan To Hold 'Secret' Conference Today

It is with no little trepidation that one reads where Mr. Harry Robertson's Oglethorpe football players are receiving corsages from young ladies and wearing them to the leap year dances.

This strikes at the fundamentals of the game much more than subsidization or overemphasis. Investigators are now at work to determine whether Mr. Robertson himself received a corsage and wore it to the dance.

Football has been the last stronghold of rugged individual allows the substantial of the game much more allows which it is infancy. In the past it has been the custom to send flowers to the sponsors and to young ladies who will studed be when the custom to send flowers to the sponsors and to young ladies who will studed the game. Operative X-89, one of the two investigating Mr. Robertson, reported that Mr. Robertson must have been wearing a corsage because a pin was found in his coat.

This charge was later withdrawn when it was found that it was a fountain pen and not a pin. Nevertheless, Mr. Robertson will be kept under observation.

W. L.'S BIG SHOT.

W. L. Stribling, who is to meet Ernie Schaaf, protege of Jack Sharkey, will probably retire if he loses to the Boston heavyweight next month, according to those who claim to know.

If he wins he will, of course, be back in the important money again. A victory over Schaaf would be followed by a fight with King Levinsky or some other heavyweight who has come along lately. And if he should get past Levinsky there would still be Steve Hamas. Any one of those would bring in real money

One learns in Macon that W. L. has been putting one over on the boys. He has been training for his Schaaf fight in a rather serious way. Plenty of road work in the hills around his home have put his legs and wind in great shape. He should win from Schaaf. If he doesn't a great boy will hang up his gloves. Wood's Fine Run.

LET'S PLAY SECRETS.

Mr. Chick Roos, the Cracker business manager, will have a secret conference with Red Barron, the new manager, some time today.

Last Tuesday's conference was not so secret. One of the baseball reporters had one. But Mr. Roos and his manager could not. The reporters kept sticking their noggins in the door.

Mr. Chick Roos will come into the baseball office this morning disguised as an escaped prisoner. They are so numerous one will not be noticed. He will be followed 20 minutes later by Mr. Red Barron, who will enter the park disguised as a policeman. Guards will be stationed at the door to keep the baseball reporters away. They will do this by asking the re-porters what they think best for the Crackers. The replies will require long enough for Mr. Barron and Mr. Roos to whisper together.

A COACH, OF COURSE.

Why, of course, they will get Mr. Barron a coach to help things out. Kid Elberfeld is going on at Little Rock. Chattanooga will have either Johnny Dobbs or Zinn Beck. And Atlanta will have one, too. Someone has got to be on the Atlanta will have one, too. Someone has got to be on the bench while the manager is on the field. Even if he is at first base, as Red Barron may be.

To obtain recognition of a new world's record, he explained, the international rules required that the old record be exceeded by at least outhalf a nautical mile an hour.

There remained one chance, Edenburn said, that an error in the timing tape of the electrical timing devices might be found on rechecking that would favor Wood. He added that a national record would be certified for Wood's performance.

Oglethorpe University will not meet the University of Chattanooga on the football field next fall, plans for a game October 8 with Scrappy Moore's S. I. A. A. champions having been definitely abandoned, it was announced

It will mark the first time in a number of years that the Moccasins and Petrels have not played each other in football.

"Inability to get together on dates caused the game to fall though," Coach Harry Robertson stated.

DUQUESNE SUBS.

In place of Chattanooga a game with Elmer Layden's Duquesne University team will be played in Pittsburgh on Friday night, October 14.

Oglethorpe and Duquesne began football relations in 1930. This year's game has been hanging fire and only recently was closed. Last fall Duquesne won a close night game, 6 to 0.

The closing of the Duquesne game brought Oglethorpe's schedule to six contests, one of which in all probability will be played at Spiller field at night.

ST. OLAF CHOIR EXPECTED IN CITY EARLY SATURDAY

The St. Olaf choir, famous group 60 young singers from St. Olaf ollege, Northfield, Minn., will reach Atlanta early Saturday morning, prior to the concert they are to give Sat-urday night at 8:15 at the Wesley Memorial church auditorium.

Memorial church auditorium.

They will spend the day Saturday partly in sightseeing around the city and partly in resting for the concert. Dr. F. Melius Christiansen, director of the world famous choir, urges his singers to live the normal lives of young people and to hold to the normal interests of youth. Only in normality and lack of ostentation, he says, can the singer give the best in his vocal power. For a similar reason Dr. Christiansen does not encourage "names" in his choir and although many of the solo parts in their program are glorfously sung, there is never the name of a solo singer printed on their programs.

Since the St. Olaf choir sang in Atlanta two years ago they have toured many of the larger cities of Europe, as well as of America and everywhere they have been acclaimed as the greatest group of singers of their type in existence today.

Seats for the program on Saturday night are on sale today and tomorrow at Davison-Paxon Company and, while the demand indicates a sold-out house by the time of the performance, there is still an excellent choice of desirable seats in all parts of the house available.

Rialto Opens Today With 'Peach o' Reno'

"Peach O' Reno," hilarious comedy of divorce and divorces, will open its Atlanta run at the Rialto theater today. So side-splitting is the entertainment in this latest starring vehicle for Bob Wheeler and Bert Woolsey that Manager Henry Kimmel decided to offer it a day ahead of the usual Saturday opening for his new program and thus give it a seven, instead of a six-day showing.

The Petrels now are in spring training under Coaches Robertson and Campbell.

Robertson is working on a few new plays for next year, but there will be no important changes in his system. He plans to bring spring training to a close on March 1. The Petrel mentor's main task is to uncover some hard running backs to take the places of Dapper Myers and Frank Anderson Jr.

Ray Walker will return and very likely will be the team's quarterback. He also will do much of the kicking and passing. Harry Wren, a junior next year, and Metrick, who will be a sophomore, also may develop.

Capitol theater today in "Forbidden," her latest Columbia picture, written and directed by Frank Capra, under whose direction she made "Ladies of Leisure" and "The Miracle Woman." Adolphe Menjou and Ralph Bellamy are featured with her, the cast also including Dorothy Peterson, Charlotte V. Henry, Baby Myrne Fresholtz, Halliwell Hobbs, Thomas Jefferson, Claude King and Tom Ricketts.

"Forbidden" was written especially to bring out the greatest display of Miss Stanwyck's talents. In his previous direction of the star Frank Capra realized she had emotional powers never yet tapped by any film role. "Forbidden" lets her run the gamut of emotions in a story that follows the development of a woman from a drab little librarian to a brilliant, beautiful woman of the worldfrom a lonely girl to a woman whose love, faith and courage enabled her to sacrifice her own career for that of the man she could love only in secret.

of the man she could love only in secret.

A splendid production has been given "Forbidden" by Columbia. The two leading characters meet on a Havana-bound boat and the beautiful Cuban capital is the scene of their love. Back in New York again the scene shifts from a newspaper office to politics and a palatial Park avenue home. Miss Stanwyck wears many stunning gowns and the role offers her a chance to show her versatility in make-up as well as in acting.

Every Effort Being Made To Co-operate With Tech Authorities.

By Al Smith.

ATHENS, Ga., Jan. 28.—Location of the nine games to be played by the University of Georgia football team will not be decided until the Southern conference basketball tournament in Atlanta during the latter part of February, according to Dr. S. V. Sanford, faculty chairman of arthletics.

Playing dates have already been announced, but the places where the Bulldogs' games will be played have not yet been definitely decided, the Georgia faculty chairman said.

An effort will be made to have all "big" football games in Athens coincide with the out-of-town games on the part of Georgia Tech. Officials of the Atlanta institution are cooperating with Dr. Sanford and Coach H. J. Stegeman, Georgia director of athletics, in an effort to arrange the two schedules in a manner agreeable to both schools.

The Georgia schedule is also being arranged to allow four "big" home games a year, Dr. Sanford said. policy of the Georgia Athletic Association, since completion of the new stadium, to bring several outstanding teams to Athens each year.

The only two games definitely set in their sites are the New York University and Georgia Tech contests. N. Y. Negotiations are being carried on with Vanderbilt, Tulane and Florida for dates either here or on the home fields of the thee universities.

Tech Denies Shift In Tulane Game.

In Tulane Game.

Officials of Georgia Tech stated yesterday they knew nothing of any plans to shift the Tech-Tulane game of next fall to New Orleans.

"There is no reason for such a change and we have no desire to take Tulane from our home schedule," it was declared.

There are six games on the Jacket schedule for Grant field, including Alabama and Kentucky. Tulane comes to Atlanta on a home-and-home arrangement, and the Greenies should draw a great crowd afteir their successful season of 1931 and their colorful Rose Bowl exhibition.

If Tech should go to New Orleans to play Tulane, that would mean that other schools on the Jacket card would ask such favors.

Grove, whiz that he was in the International league when hurling for Baltimore, was the woolly-wildest slabman in the game at the time of his 1925 debut with the A's. He passed 131 batters in 197 innings, or an average of six per game. That year he won 10 and lost 12. The next season he began finding the range and broke even in 26 starts and from 101 bases on balls in his second year he pared down to 79 the third. Last season, his seventh in the majors, he was an amazing marksman, giving only 62 passes in 289 innings pitched.

Gomez started differently. As a rookie in 1930 he won 2 and lost 5. Then in 1931 he was the sensation of the American league pitching fraternity, with 21 victories and only 9 defeats. And his mark of only 85 passes in 243 innings pitched contrasts sharply with Grove's rating in the latter's first full year in fast company.

So you see it's not always wise to generalize, even on the wildness of young port-siders. Rube Walberg, third-ranking southpaw in the junior league, wasn't so wild at the start, with only 77 passes in 192 innings of his first full year in the majors, nor was Earl Whitehill, of Detroit, with 79 in 233 innings.

Walker and Hubbell, the Giants' two southpaws who showed the way in the National league, made their bows more in the Gomez style than in the Grove manner. Bill Hallahan is the National league's best example in the Grove tradition, for in his first year as a regular Card moundsman, 1930, he issued 126 passes in 237 innings.

P. Dickie, manager of the southeastern division of the United States Chamber of Commerce, in a talk made before members of the Atlanta Junior Chamber of Commerce at their weekly luncheon.

Mr. Dickie declared that "almost"

TO DISCUSS FINANCE

University and college finances for the state will be discussed at the first session of the annual meeting of the Association of Georgia Colleges to be held in the form of a dinner at the Piedmont hotel at 7 o'clock tonight. The accrediting of Georgia schools and further financial discussion will occupy moraing and afternoon sessions of the association Saturday.

Dr. J. R. McCain, president of Agnes Scott College, will speak on "Some Problems in Financing Our Institutions" at this evening's meeting. College heads and professors from the different schools, as well as members of the board of regents of the Georgia system, will be in attendance.

Dr. Archie M. Palmer, associate secretary of the Association of American Colleges, and Dr. Ben D. Wood, a research student in education at Columbia University, will be the two principal speakers at the Saturday morning session, while S. V. Sanford, president of Franklin College; Dr. Joseph E. Stewart and Dr. J. L. Hendren, of the University of Georgia, will lead the discussion on requirements at the closing meeting Saturday afternoon. The group will head annual reports and applications of schools for the accredited list.

STATE PRODUCTS ARE IN MINORITY IN COUNTY STORES

Fulton county retail grocery, meat and feed stores sold nearly three times as much staple farm produce imported from outside of Georgia during 1931 as they sold of Georgia farm products, according to a survey of the 1,000 stores in the county made by Harry Brown, county agricultural agent.

Of $21,864,134.67 in staple products sold in the Fulton stores last year. Georgia farmers provided only $6,652,818.59 worth, the balance being brought from outside of the state, the figures show. Fulton county, with little farm screening in cultivation, prolittle farm acreage in cultivation, produced only $63,162.29 worth of staples at retail prices.

The survey made by County Agent Brown is part of a statewide survey designed to benefit the Georgia farmer by showing him the value of diversification and proper grading and preparing of farm products for the market. The survey included no perishables. The statewide figures total approximately $75,000,000, with the comparison of Georgia-grown and imported produce about the same as the Fulton acreage, Brown said.

Brown said that he found Fulton

Brown said that he found Fulton county merchants are willing and anxious to handle Georgia staple products if they are of the proper quality and are put up in marketable condition.

Eight Decades of Growth 1852-1932

SSOCIATED SERVICE has just com-A pleted 80 years of growth. This service is supplied by 120 companies, whose operations in 3,000 communities make the Associated System one of the eight largest utility groups in the United States.

Of the present companies, eight were operating in 1852, the year of organization of the Ithaca Gas Light Company, principal unit of the original Associated group. The cities these eight companies serve and the years

The System's strong position at the beginning of 1932 is supported by the following factors:

Revenues Increase-During this period gross operating revenues were $105,-

582,794, a gain of about 1%; net earnings

$43,553,880, a decrease of 7%. This decrease was largely accounted for by a

OPERATING STRENGTH

1,443,706 Customers-A gain of 21,450 in the 12 months ended November 1931.

Gain in Domestic Service - An increase of 9% in average annual residential use of electricity, while gas was practically even, nearly offset industrial losses in this period. This gain was accompanied by an average reduction in rates of one-half cent per unit (kw. hr.). The reduction resulted from the success of the System's inducement type of rate, which makes it possible for customers to use additional electricity and gas at a decreasing cost.

New Business - $5,807,577 of loadbuilding gas and electric appliances were sold in the first 11 months of the year. In the past three years, 420 mills and factories moved to Associated territory; 550 already there expanded their operations requiring additional use of electricity and gas for power and heating purposes.

Operating Costs - Operating expenses were cut 2.9% in the 12 months ended November 1931. Several important operating properties were acquired by the Associated System in 1929, but there was not sufficient opportunity to consolidate them entirely in the System before business entered its present period of uncertainty.

231,055 Security Holders - Strength of the Associated System attracted 19,485 new investors during this period.

of fixed capital.

Eight decades of growth have rooted the properties of the Associated System deep in the life and business of America. These years included a dozen business depressions, yet each was followed by progress unmatched before. When the savings due to the operating economies effected and the earnings from the new business obtained are realized under more normal conditions, it is believed the results will be gratifying to customers, employees, and stockholders.

The character of Associated service, which is concentrated in the rich industrial areas of the East and the successful record of the operating properties, promise that the System will have a full share in the growth of the utility industry.

DOMESTIC BONDS. BY VICTOR EUBANK. NEW YORK, Jan. 28.—(A)— Strength in United States government securities was the only ray of sunshine that could be detected in today's overcast bond market. The federal loans were firm, and held most of their gains of about a point. The railway mortgages started the day on an ascending plane but there was a wave of selling in the last few minutes of trading, and the average for 20 of the principal carriers ended the day 4-10 of a point lower. The utilities staged a somewhat discouraging performance and generally registered the largest losses of the session. Communications and gas and electric bonds were especially subjected to pressure. 2 Caldas 74s '46 2 Caldas 74s '46 15 Canada 5s '52 1 Canada 4s '50 11 Canada 4s '60 6 Chile M Bk 64s '61 11 Chile M Bk 64s '61 12 Chile M Bk 68 '62 13 Chile 6s '61 13 Chile 6s '61 14 Chile M Bk 6s '62 16 Chile 6s '60 3 Chile 6s '61 Jan 7 Chile 6s '61 Jan 7 Chile 6s '61 Jan 4 Colombia 6s '61 Oct 6 Colom M Bk 7s '46 1 Colom M Bk 7s '46 1 Colom M Bk 7s '47 5 Colom M Bk 64s '47 1 Copenhag 44s '53 5 Cordoba Pt 7s '37 ctts 3 Cordoba Pt 7s '47 Costa Rica 7s '51 6 Cuba 54s '45 C Cuba 44s '49 C Cuba 44s '49 C Cucha 44s '49 C Cucha 6s '51 C Cucha 6s '59 5 Virg Pub 8 5a '50 B ... 68 68 1 Waldorf Ast 7a '54 ... 16 18 1 Wash Wat Pwr 3a '60 95; 95; 1 West News Del 6a '44 25 25; 1 West Pa 85 2090 ... 60 60 1 West Tex J 5s '57 A 62; 62 1 Westroc Chlor 5; 37 A 62; 62 1 Westroc Chlor 5; 37 99; 994 5 Wisc P&L 5a '56 E ... 85 88 4 Wisc P&L 5a '56 F ... 85; 83 jected to pressure. In the late trading, however, practically all this lost ground was recovered, with final prices around the best of the session. Hedging was only moderate, but there was increased pressure in the way of long liquidation by recent buyers, doubtless stimulated by the poor action of securities, failure of general business to show appreciable improvement, more or less nervousness over the effect of hostilities between Japan and China, and disappointment over slowness of the Reconstruction Finance Corporation in getting into action. 4 Cundinamarca 6 1 Czecho 8s '51 . 10 Czecho 8s '52 8 Denmark 6a '42 18 Denmark 5 s '55 12 Denmark 4 s '62 11 Deutsche Bk 6a '32 6 Dom 1st 5 s '26 40 3 DE Indiee sfg 6s '62 Fint 7s '46 1 Finland sfg 7a '50 1 Finland 6s '45 4 Fin M L 69s '54 A 5 Fram I Der 74s '42 11 Frankfort 6js '58 41 French 7js '41 13 French 7s '49 -F--D-BEER & CO. NEW YORK, Jan. 28.—Cotton has been quiet and dull with a slightly easier tendency. There is more feeling that the south will liquidate a larger amount of its holdings before planting season. This sentinent has caused moderate realising by those who bought below these prices on the theory that January advances seldom hold and that they can replace the cotton at a lower basis. On the other hand there is thought to be a fairly large amount of trade price fixation orders at slightly below present prices. A slightly easier market may be expected, but it does not change the fundamental fact that at these prices, with any reduction in acreage and bad weather in the spring, the market is a purchase. regardless of any temporary decline. Liverpool sold early on straddles. The south sold moderately and there appeared to be scattering liquidation. A feeling that the acreage will not be reduced as much as hoped for doubtless promoted the selling. Any decline of consequence, however, seems unlikely unless southern holders sell in larger volume because of the numerous trade buying orders under the market to cover hedges. 2 Marseilles 6s '34 991 181 441 2 67 70 691 25 Produce 89 48 4 9 Hygr Fds 6s 49 A 472 464 4 Hygrade F 6s '49 B . 46 46 1 III Nor Ut 5s '57 . 874 877 27 III Pow&Lt 5s '56 C 733 724 2 III Pow&Lt 5s '56 C 733 724 2 III Pow&Lt 5s '56 C 733 724 3 III Pow&Lt 5s '57 . 654 65 8 III Pow&Lt 5s '58 80 79 3 Ind E 5s '51 C 65 63 5 Ind&Mich 5s '55 90 90 80 1 Ind Serv 5s '63 A 59 554 2 Indapls P&L 5s '57 A 89 85 2 Indapls P&L 5s '57 A 89 85 2 Indapls P&L 5s '57 A 89 85 2 Indapls P&L 5s '57 B 84 2 InterlPowSec 7s '36 D 89 2 InterlPowSec 7s '55 F 84 2 InterlPowSec 7s '55 C 78 2 InterlPowSec 7s '55 C 78 3 InterlPowSec 61s '55 C 78 3 InterlPowSec 61s '55 C 78 3 InterlPowSec 61s '55 C 78 3 InterlPowSec 7s '52 F 80 60 15 InterlPowSec 7s '57 B 84 3 InterlPowSec 7s '57 B 84 3 InterlPowSec 7s '55 C 78 3 InterlPowSec 7s '56 C 78 4 InterlPowSec 7s '56 C 78 5 C 75 and the property of the proper Stock Letters. FENNER, BEANE & UNGERLEIDER. NEW YORK, Jan. 28.—Sagging prices today marked the balance of speculative initiative as still on the selling side. The significance of this action was minimized, however, by inability to shake out any volume of offerings. Despite the negative character of current dividend news, last year's earnings reports and other immediate factors, stocks exhibit a notable reluctance to indulee in further appreciable liquidation. Attention remains fixed upon business conditions and the Chicago wage parley, and constructive forces are momentarily handicapped by want of clear-cut indications respecting spring trade possibilities and by lengthening deliberations actively opposing professional elements operating for speculative turns on the short side. and by lengthening deliberations actively opposing professional elements operating for speculative turns on the short side. COURTS & CO. NEW YORK, Jan. 28.—Some interest was manifested in the far eastern situation Thursday, but it would not be logical to say that the irregular was due to alarm over possibility of general hostilities. The industrials were irregularly downward with Steel and General Electric in supply, both issues meeting what seemed good support on a scale down. American Telephone and Telegraph was another stock in supply, but resisted when selling threatened to become aggressive. The rails joined the industrials in the decline, in the afternoon. DOBES & CO. NEW YORK, Jan. 28.—The downward trend for industrials, in our opinion, has not been broken. The trend has been downward ever since the indicated resistance level of 78 for the Dow-Jones Industrial averages was violated. New lows have been made each day since this resistance zone was broken. Compared with the low on Wednesday of 76.66, the industrial averages was violated. New lows have been made each day since this resistance before important resistance is encountered, but hold the view, nevertheless, that the stock market is shaping itself for a substantial advance which can get under way in February or March at the latest. BEER & CO. NEW YORK, Jan. 28.—Fluctuations continued narrow with the trend in most stocks moderately lower. Trading seemed largely professional. Fublic enthusiasm for the buying side is at a low ebb, but the prevailing level of prices acts to prevent liquidation to a large degree, since the majority of investors who have carried atocks to these levels are disinciluded of dispose of them. We continue to recommend a trading attitude toward the active issues and feel that purchases should only be made on sharp dips and profits taken as soon as trading rallies afford the opportunity. NEW YORK, Jan. 28.—(?)—Directors of the Bethlehem Steel Corporation, America's second largest steel company, today decided "in view of present conditions" not to declare any dividend on the common stock.

The company issued its preliminary report for 1931 showing net income of $115.745, which contrasted with $23.843.406 in 1930 and $42.242,980 in the boom year of 1929. The company's 1931 earnings were quivalent to 12 cents a share on the outstanding preferred stock, on which the regular quarterly dividend payment of $1.75 a share was ordered.

the Contract table is that in playing the defense they make their hands an open hook to an alert Declarer. So obvious is this fault at times that it might be as well for them to lay their card face up on the table and thus remove entirely the possibility of a wrong guess by the man playing the hand. Correct defense often involves the possibility of for the moment misleading your partner if thereby you can also mislead the Declarer. It is axiomatic in Contract that against—a suit declaration, if you are leading a particular suit and hold the ace and small cards of it, you should lay down the Ace, as otherwise you may never cash it, but this rule, like all other rules, has its exceptions, as the hand below, played in the recent Vanderbilt Trophy Contest, demonstrates.

UPTURN IN BUSINESS FORESEEN BY DUPONT

Only Slight Decrease Shown in Earnings for Company in 1931.

WILMINGTON, Del., Jan. 28.—(P)
Increasing evidence of approaching stability in business is seen by Lammot du Pont, president of E. I. du Pont de Nemours & Company, who issued the company's annual report to stockholders today.

"Although the going has been hard," states Mr. du Pont in his introduction to the report, "more real advance has probably been made during the past two years of adversity than during the immediately preceding years of comparatively easy progress.

"Yet we must all continue to be more industrious. Both public and private budgets must be balanced. As soon as confidence returns—and the time should not be far away—the wheels of industry and trade will be gin to turn more rapidly, and the stimulus of our wants, combined with the energy and capacity of the American people, will gradually bring back a sounder prosperity based on a recognition of real values and an abandonment of unsound speculative dreams."

medical science is helpless to save 13-month-old Diane Moore from a life of idiocy.

The institute, it says, has informed the infant's mother, Mrs. Lillian Moore, 19, it will not consent to an operation which it had been hoped would relieve a condition which made development of the baby's brain impossible.

X-ray photographs, the American says, have shown the child has a "general lack of brain tissues" and that the maximum mental age it can attain is that of a 2-year-old. Diane, the paper says, probably never will walk or talk.

A further examination of the child was to have been held on Tuesday, but the American says the institute's decision is final and the examination will not be held.

Dr. O. A. Spier, who referred the case to the institute, said the baby's brain was ossified and suggested a skull operation to provide room for expansion.

And the supreme courts of the various states, he added, have been to some pains to specify precise meanings, particularly in the states of Wisconsin, Kansas and Georgia.

"Wisconsin went to the trouble," said Dr. Dobie, "of differentiating a dog from a beast; Kansas ruled that

DEMAND DEPOSITS SHOW DECREASE

WASHINGTON, Jan. 28.—(49)—A decrease in net demand deposits of banks of the country was reported to-day by the federal reserve board to have been influenced largely by decreases in bankers' balances held by metrocolitan institutions.

metropolitan institutions.

In its monthly review of business and finance, the board said: "During a period of relative inac-tivity and slack demand for credit, these bankers' deposits usually accu-mulate in financial centers, where they earn interest and at the same time are available to the depositing banks at any time.

"In accordance with the usual experience, these balances showed an increase in 1930 and the first part of 1931. Beginning with April of this 1931. Beginning with April of this (1931) year, however, as banks in the interior required their resources to meet the withdrawal of deposits, bankers' balances turned down sharply, particularly at banks in centers other than New York, and toward the end of 1931 they were at the lowest level in several years."

Total loans and investments of re porting member banks, the board re-ported, declined steadily from the first quarter of the year until the middle of December, when purchase of gov-ernment securities caused an increase.

"Which shows how little you really know about your neighbors," retorted Jimmy Skunk. "Haven't you ever seen Striped Chipmunk in winter?"

"Of course, he has," said a third voice, and there was Striped Chipmunk himself looking as pert and saucy as ever as he sat on the old wall.

"Of course I am one," replied Striped Chipmunk, "but is that any reason why I shouldn't wake up once in a while and poke my head out for a look around?"
